Just for Fun

Little Johnny is failing math and no matter how much Mom helps, it's to no avail, she enrolls him in Catholic School, First day after school, he goes straight to his room & studies. When he was called to supper he said I can't, have to study. Mom says come & eat NOW, he does then goes back to studying. This goes on for a month, when mom opens his report card he has an "A", when questioned why, was it the Nuns that helped? Johnny said no, was it the Priest that helped,? no Johnny said, when you dropped me off the first day & I saw the guy nailed on the + I knew they were serious about math! (Submitted by John Brewer)
